The gym facilities on Fort Story have come a long way since I first came to work in 1991. The gym is well used by all people on post, unlike the CLUB. OUR CLUB, the FORT STORY club has become a private catering facility, not a community run club. I remember when most of the personnel on post ate lunch and sometimes dinner at the club, not today. There is no lunch service and the only use is for private functions and limited command gatherings. We need to seriously consider using this wonderful location to benefit the whole Fort Story community on a daily basis. The view is wonderful, now its time to turn it into a profit making dining spot. Just look around the area at all the dining along the Chesapeake Bay. Its time for the Army to step up to the plate and make use of what we have. Should we need an example, go see "Shifting Sands" at Dam Neck, what a place or visit the Va Beach Resort Hotel for lunch. Every dollar we make will benefit OUR post.

The Army wide MWR program provifes a great service to both our active and retired military family. Keep up the good work and try not to eliminate anything. We should try to meet the needs of all even if only a few use the service offered.

Currently, we live near the Oceana Naval Air Station here in Virginia Beach and appreciate all that is offered by the MWR program. Especially good is the youth atheletic prgoram managed by a very professional, accomodating and caring women named Sandy.

My wife and I use and enjoy the golf course every week. It is a great facility staffed with great personnel who make every trip to the course a very pleasant experience.

Thanks for all the good things the MWR staff brings to our Soldiers, Sailors, Marines, Airmen, Coasties and those of us who served proudly in the past.

Please keep up the superb work. Jim Edge.

I worked at Fort Eustice, VA, during the past year, so I used their MWR facilities more. Now I work in Norfolk, so I will be wanting to use Fort Story for liesure purposes: ITT, fishing, boat rental, beaches.

I value the military recreation and lodging facilities highly.

I live very close (less than a mile) from Fort Story and have based my answers on that fact even though it is a satellite post for Fort Eustis, VA. Fort Story is a prime location for a Army Marina to be built. It would make more use of the area's excellent location and would definitely be a money maker for MWR since all of the Marinas in the area are at or near capacity and the prices you have to pay are very high. It is an opportunity that should be explored.

I work and live closer to a Navy base than an Army facility so I use Navy facilities primarily. Also you keep talking in this survey about my base, but I am not sure which one you are referring to!

I believe that the MWR provides a very important role for our soldiers primarily active duty and their families. It is only one of the many stepping stones of all the different programs the military has to offer its troops and their families to show that the Army cares about its soldiers and families.

Ft Story offers many MWR activities for the young. For the older retiree like myself I am more interested in Military Exchange and Religious programs.

This survey pertained to Fort Story. Fort story is a sub installation of Fort Eustis. It is a very small post, not too much is offered for retirees. I use ITT, the golf course and the exchange at the Naval Bases nearby.

I filled out this survey but I do not think it reflects where our family is at the present. In the past when we did live on-post we used just about all mentioned services. At different financial levels throughout the years we have utilized different aspects of MWR and services. I think all these services are very important for younger ranking enlisted personel and families. These programs are a big part in morale and allowing the families to have quality leisure time at affordable prices. Also the ACS programs are of utmost importance, in the past these programs have been extremely important to helping families before, during and post deployment. This component of the army family is detriment to keeping a well rounded force and keeping stressful situations to a minimum. People in the services are younger and younger and need all the support we can afford to give; some are more resourcful than others. We are asking them to sign up for a life of protecting we need to take care of our guys too.
